BPI's goal is to promote the professionalism of Quality Control Inspectors' work products and thereby to enhance their quality.

I. Avoiding Conflicts of Interest
A. Inspectors shall not participate in professional activities involving a conflict of interest. D. Only third-party inspections shall be represented as certified inspections. A certified inspection is one performed by a true third party. A true third party is an individual having no association with the homeowner/client and no association with the organization that performed the work.
E. Inspectors shall not accept any form of compensation for recommending products or services to clients or other parties having an interest in the inspected work.
F. When asked for professional recommendations, inspectors shall direct the client to the official sources for up-to-date lists of Certified Professionals and accredited contracting companies before making any personal referrals. Personal referrals and recommendations are acceptable provided that they do not violate any article within this Code of Ethics.
II. Professionalism and Integrity
A. Inspectors shall comply with all safety-related regulations, warnings, and instructions set forth by local, state, or federal organizations and other recognized safety organizations.

Inspectors shall report any additional safety and security concerns to the client.
C. Inspectors shall be objective in their reports and not knowingly overstate or understate the significance of their findings.
D. Inspectors shall commit to neutrality and objectivity while conducting an inspection and in making any recommendations.

D. Inspectors shall act professionally at all times and in the best interests of the client and employer.
E. Inspectors shall not willfully damage, or by negligence or indifference allow to be damaged, any property belonging to clients or employers. Inspectors shall take reasonable means to protect the owner’s health, safety, property, and possessions and also to prevent the undue loss, theft, waste, and dissipation of the owner’s funds, resources, and supplies.
F. Inspectors shall not betray the trust that property owners and employers have placed in them by inviting them to work in their homes and businesses.
IV. Maintaining Confidentiality
A. Inspectors shall not discuss or disclose to third parties any confidential information about properties, employers, and clients, unless required by court order to do so. Confidential information is defined here as names, addresses, phone numbers, financial data, personal details, vulnerabilities, defects, measurements, diagrams, blueprints, photographs, recordings, electronic versions, and other descriptions or representations that only the employers or clients have a right and a need to know about and disseminate.
B. Inspectors shall not, without permission, disclose private, confidential information about any client or employer for the use or interests of any third parties whose services and opinions have not been explicitly requested by the client or employer. Inspectors may discreetly discuss their own work and working conditions with their family and associates, but not in any way that violates the privacy of the employers, clients, and relevant family members.
