1. About BPI

Founded in 1993, the Building Performance Institute (BPI) is the nation's premier certification and standard-setting organization for home performance professionals. BPI is accredited by the American National Standards Institute, Inc. (ANSI) as a developer of American National Standards and as a certifying body for personnel credentials. BPI develops the technical standards for home energy audits and for energy efficiency, health, and safety improvements. From these standards, BPI develops rigorous written and field exams resulting in one of BPI's 14 professional certifications.

BPI also offers 3 programs (BPI GoldStar Contractor for companies, Rating Program for raters, and BPI Product Listing for manufacturers) and 3 certificates (Building Science Principles, Healthy Housing Principles, and the Site Supervisor Certificate). BPI Certified Professionals hold over 18,000 active certifications supported by over 100 BPI Test Centers and 250 Proctors. BPI has BPI Goldstar Contractors across the country.

BPI is a 501(c)3 corporation registered in the state of New York. The corporation was incorporated on January 18, 1996 and the corporation number is 14-1789014. The objective of the corporation is to provide credentialing for individuals and corporations involved in the residential retrofit industry. BPI is headquartered in Saratoga Springs, NY.

2. Introduction to the BPI Rating Program

The BPI Rating Program provides individuals and businesses engaged in home assessments, inspection and home improvement related activities with a competitive advantage by ensuring that they have met adequate prerequisites, staffing and quality management systems in place that can result in the delivery of consistent, high quality energy performance building ratings.

Participation in the BPI Rating Program is voluntary and requires a true commitment to approach each project from a whole building perspective. A BPI Rater Company is committed to providing accurate, consistent home energy score ratings and educating consumers on the value of a whole house comprehensive approach.

The BPI Rating Program helps ensure that BPI Rater Companies and BPI GoldStar Contractors with Qualified Home Energy Score Staff (GSCwHESS) have the tools and techniques necessary to impress upon the customer the value and importance of the energy efficient improvements. Depending on entity selection, the model allows the flexibility to; a) perform third-party ratings as a stand-alone service, b) to provide ratings and comprehensive assessments and work as a consultant to the homeowner to help coordinate installation of improvements, or c) to provide ratings, comprehensive assessments, and develop a comprehensive work scope and perform the work (limited or comprehensive, based on what is accepted by the client and appropriate).

3. How does the Rating Program Work?

The application process begins when a company submits a BPI Rater application and supporting information to BPI. Once all requirements have been met by the company, BPI and the company will enter into a Rater Agreement that defines the duties and responsibilities of each party. All entities seeking to participate as a BPI Rater Company are expected to conform to the terms of the Rater Agreement, in addition to complying with any applicable local, state or federal regulations.

4. Procedures to become a BPI Rater

4.1. Eligibility

Entities applying for BPI Rater Company/GSCwHESS status must agree to comply with the BPI Rating Program Policies and Procedures, the BPI Rater Agreement, and BPI national technical standards when applicable.
